been laden with the details of the Buren case, and the public sympathy has been largely interested. Whatever may leave been the private opinion as to the gnift or inuocence of Mrs. Burch, we have rarely witnessed such general, and we might almost say universal sympathy expressed for any party under such circumstances.—
The public feeling, both at Napierville and Chiengo, has run high for Mrs. Burch, and a general opinion expressed that the jury must find a verdict of acquitad. On yesterday evening the telegraph brought us news confirming these hopes and anticipations. The jury have acquitted Mrs. Burch. The news flew from mouth to mouth, it passed along with the magic speed of ramor through every street and every alley in the city. Bondires blazed, rockets streamed, dizzed, and sputtered through the dark winter night. The many colored lights fell fitfully upon the magnificent blocks of the great banker, and told fearfully of the fate of the doomed husband.—
Men congratulated each other, and boys smued their young faces in the gleam of the bondires. There was a general sense of relief and joy.

This is a sad case—sad every way; sad, THITEDAY MORNING, Dec. 13.

PEHJURY.—Thos. Kershaw was arrested on a charge of perjury, and presented to the court. As Judge Johnston was a witness in the case, W. P. Boone was appointed Judge pro. ten. He not being ready for trial, the case was continued mult to-morrow morn-HEAVY LOAN TO TURKEY—THE SICK MAN DESTINED TO BE ARSORBED.—What is going on at Constautinople? A loau has leen negotiated with the Rothschilds and others, a. Paris, for 400,000,000 tranes, on terms which make the bankruptey of Turkey as sure as the expiration of the credit. The total avails of this loan—about $40,000,000—will scarcely suffice to pay the present arrears of the Government, and who will lend any more? It requires no prophetic glit to see the hand of the French Emperor in this significant but simply mercantile transaction. This is algnificant. Mr. Helm's Induence is second to that on few men In the State; and he has been throughout his life a consistent opponent Democracy. It is maderstood that he is decided in the opinion that Kentucky should not permit the Federal Government to use force to coerce a secoding State oack into the Union; and he, also, believes that this State ought and must go with the other Southern States If they withdraw from the Union.

Though composed exclusively Union" men, the resolutious passed by blameeting are far from being as object ionable as those adopted by county meatngs in this State one month ago. They ndleate a much healthier atate of public seutiment in Kentucky than our enemies in the North are led to believe exists, by "Unlon" papers and "Unlon-savers." We copy two or three of them; and in calling attention to them express a confident bellef that in thirty days the people of the State will be a unit on the great question of demanding now practical and efficient guarantees for the protection of all their ights in the Union, or in favor of going with the other slave States out of the Union If this is denied them. Already our lists of duily recipionts have risen to $7,000, and yet they grow, despite our utmost efforts to reduce them. Merely to supply food to these $27,000, ou the lowest seeke that will sustain hie for the six months to come, until harvest begins, will cost $20,000. But food is not all that must be provided. Many thousands will require to be intuished shelter, clothes, bedding, mediclines, physicians, hospitals, and all the machinery necessary for these operations, even when conducted on the most economical scale possible. The committee see, with serious solicitude, that the existing operations of all kinds remittee see, with serious solicitude, that the existing operatious of all kinds require an outlay of not less than £1,500 a week. Should they be continued at this rate for the ensuing six months, the large sum of $30,000 will be needed.

But we dere not conceal our apprehension that during the severliles of the winter, the rate of expenditure ought to be, and must be, considerably higher. Will the public ask why? The Florence Nations preems us with the summary of a little work entitled the Prisons of Palvino. It is the record of the experience of several political prisoners, written in the Pontifical dungeous of Palvino. These tombs for the fiving are now, thanks to recent events, empty. One prisoner writes:

tanks to recent events, empty. One presourer writes:

In the fort of Paliano there are about 200 political prisoners, dressed like the criminals condemned to the galleys, and like their, shaved. They are divided and allow the sections. Those condemd for life are shift up in cells, about nine spons wide and about sixteen long, including the little table of brickwork. Other cells, about three spans wider, contain three prisoners, and others, not much larger, have seventeen all huddled together. In the first of these there is a small grating over and opposite the door, through which the food is little about one window, and sometimes two, with an opening of about four spans in breadth and vening of about four spens in breadth and vening of about four spens in breadth and vening of about four spens in breadth and vening free neglected and ill-treated. A CHINESE DINNER.—In the avening the mandarin entertained me at dinner.—When the provisions had been placed agen the table every one sat down. My neighbor on the left offered me a portion of a kitten, the one on the right a wing of an owl, and the third pressed on me the leg of a dog. The Chinese, to do honor to a guest, cram his plate with what they consider the tuost delicate morsels, so that he rans the risk of having a violent indigendent. In this country obesity is considered the highest heauty in nun. The Chinese with whom I was at table had good appetites; they are a good deal, and used their long, transparent finger-nails, which are ashard as fron, to separate their food had shard as fron, to separate their food had small portions. That was to me a new employment for human nails. Wine made from rice, tea, and different sorts of syrup were sent round the table. I confined myself to taking a few glasses of the latter, but it would be difficult for me to give the names or describe the taste. 1. Hasolved, That we consider it our duty to condown, in the strongest and most unhistation to the strongest and most unhistation to the strongest and most unhistation to the first the consideration of the Fugitive Slave that the unlinderston of the Fugitive Slave have, as, by such a course of disloyalty, other have produced a state of affairs in many of the slave Sates which greatly enhangers the peace and perpetuity of the Infon.

2. Resolved, That the present alarming state of affairs is alone attributable to the reckiess and nuwbe course pursued by the North in the passage of their personal liberty bills, and a refusal on the part of their people to seeme to the South her just equality in the Territories of the Union.

3. Resolved, That whilst we regret the action of the extreme Southern States, and deplore secession, we doubt the propriety of any attempt by the President of the United States to coerce them into submission.

4. Resided, That we consider the Repubhean party as no more deserving our cen-streamd condemnation, than many of those who reside in slave States, and are threatening to assist in nelng force to course our ou, believing as we do that such conducnot only emboldens the Republicans of the North in their orusades against the insti-tutions of the South, but is driving those who are Mreatening to secode to a point of madness, beyond which there is no hope for a just and peaceable settlement of executing difficulties.

The chizens of tids county met at Benton, on the 2d of December, in public meeting, idge T. M. Gonzen in the Chair, and REBNARD A. NEAL, Secretary, and adopted these resolutions:

1. Resolved, That however much we may could regret the separation and dissolu-ion of this Coulederney, still we will not leitend a Union that is made an englue of oppession and injustice to any member of this Confedence, 2. Mesolved, That we ask our sister States of the South to act couly and dispassion-siely in this great emergency, and exhaust every argument to induce the North to te-ured from her acts of aggression before they seemed from the Union.

2. DOUGLAS, WH:

1. Resolved, That the passage and retention on their statute books by a large numler of the non-slaveholding States of laws calculated and designed to defeat and prevent the execution of the Fugitive Slave Law, is a clear and direct violation of the Constitution of the United States, and creatly prejudicial to the people of the South.

Constitution of the United States, and greatly prejudical to the people of the South.

2. Mesoleod. That the institution of shorery was designed to be, and is secured by the Constitution of the United States; that its security constituted one of the great and fundamental considerations of the compact, and any infringement of this right is ju-thy to be considered a blow at the formation of the Government.

3. Resolved. That many of the people of the North, in peoplar addresses, lecturer, and sermons, and by pamphlets and tracks laused and extensively circulated, have endeavored to produce, and have, to a great extent succeeded in producing, a common and powerful sentituent against slavery and slaveholders. They have, by this means created a leeling adverse to the social lutercourse between the people of the States North and South, and, in some instances, broken up the cominy due from one State to another. We regard this kind of sentiment, if encouraged and fostered in the future as it has been in the past, as tending directly in alionate widely and irreconcilably the two sections, and unitrately and heaviled to produce a dissolution of the Union.

4. Resolved. That while we thus regard the rights of the South as having been initiated and threatoned, we do not regard and threatoned, we do not regard and threatoned, we do not regard when infringement as sufficient cause, under existing circumstances, to break up and destroy the Union.

5. Resolved That when the North shall have reviewed the whole ground, as she mustand will do, the sober second thought of the people will bring her to a position of justice to the South.

6. Resolved That the claction of Abraham Lincoln to the Presidency of the Union at the form and provisions of the Constitution, does not in itself consiliant cause for a dissolution of the Union. The platform upon which he was elected, if carried into effect hy Congressional legislation, would destroy the equality of the States and violate the Constitution, that we regard him as wholly impotent to the equality of the Sintee and violate the Constitution, but we regard him as wholly imporent in effect that object.

Constitution, but we regard him as whol

6. Resolved, That the breaking up of a great, prosperons, and powerful Government like ours ought no, to be lightly considered or hastily done, and and we therefore duclare it as our opinion that it is unwise and impositie for any State of this Union, under existing circumstances, to separate uself from the Government.

7. Resolved, That a settlement of the starty question by amendments to the Constitution or otherwise, so as to put down and allay all discussion of the subject is the best, if not the only, means of restoring harmony to the country, and of securing a perpetuation of the Republic.

8. Resolved, That Kentunky has always shown herself firmly attached to the Union and Constitution, and in the present great crisis of the country it is the duty of her people and Government to be wise and considerate, to take time, to deliberate, to be steady, to institut herself by the history of the past, and to calculate well the funion, to take no rash steps tending to disleyair, but uphold and preserve the Constitution and Union until aggression, actual or threatened, shall become solumniant as to require ber to abandon it.

There is some talk about the Mayor sending a special message to the Common Connell, recommending messures of relief or the inechazies and laborers out of work, if not out of food. There is also a deep feeling of resentment in this city towards the Republicans, who are accused as the authors of all the troubles that have earne upon the country, and as the men who have taken the bread out of the mouths of women and children. This feeling does not appear on the surface of things, but as soon as the waters are stirred it will oose up and lead to fresh trouble. In the course of the week there will prohably be an effort made by the Union and deunscratte men of all parties to get up a demonstration in favor of conclination and compromise, but it is success is doubtful, liew believing that it will do any good in the present position of affairs. saye:

HIRECT THADE WITH EUROPE. - The Norfolk (Va.) Chamber of Commerce re-cently seut John D. Myrick as Its agent to Euroje to lavestigate the facilities for establishing direct trade. The Norfolk Argus, in announcing his return, says: Several firms of the highest repute in Elverpool, flavre, and Autwerp, have been led to look to Norlolk as a point from which direct trade may be inaugurated; and they are pledged to make cash advances on any shipments that our enterprising merchants may make. It would not surprise us if one of the French lines which the Emperor has taken under his liberal patronage could be induced by efforts in Virginia to make our port its western terminus. Mr. Myrick has obtained many valuable assurances on these points, and

Washington, D. C., Dec. 12.—Senate.—
In the Senate yesterday, Mr. Wigfall made the most violent secession speech of the session. The immediate cause of secession, he continued, is the election to the residency of a Black Republican. The people of the North must know that the present state of adhars has been brought about by the Helper book; by the teachings of the Senator from New York, Mr. Seward; by the preachings of the pretended followers of Christ; and by teaching in your schools even the children to hate us. The Senator from New York had told his Wide Awake friends that their services could not be dispeased with after the election, but that they would be needed to secure the finits of victory. There are half a million of uniformed men, well drilled, and the purpose of their organization is to sweep the constryin which I live with fire and sword.
Mr. Seward roganized where it is to take place. [Laughter and applause in the guileries.]
Mr. Wigfall said he had seen it reported in the newspapers.
Mr. Seward replied that he did not see is to restore the health, no matter from what cause it may be suffering. They take out all impurities from the system and they have the same power of expusion over missen, poisonous vapor of decayed vegetables, or Indeed any poisonous exhaustions breatted by man whatever. Mr. Wigfall said he had seen it reported in the newspapers.

Mr. Seward replied that he did not see what was published in the newspapers. I do remember to have read a letter which I received from some unknown person of a Southern State, professing to implicate something I said in some speech of mine, but I cam't tell what I may have said that could be perverted so as to imply that I ever said or lutimated that the Wide Awakes were being kept organized, or disciplined, or milformed, or associated at all, to secure the fruits of their victory. I think I can safely say I have never said anything which could be so construed. I hope the Senator will exouse me, I hope he will not deem it necessary for the toput myself under any obligation to explain southing hereafter.

Mr. Wigfall continued, and said the denial of the Senator is all I ask. I only saw a report of his speech.

Union Meeting in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Dec. 18.—The grand union meeting assembled to-day in Independence Square. It was opened with prayer by Bishop Potter. Mayor Henry presided, assisted by a large number of Vice Presidenta and Secretaries, the names comprising large numbers of wealthy and influential citizens. Resolutions were offered and adopted proclaiming attachment and reverence for the Constitution, carnest and endearing love for the Union, and deeply deploring the fact that some of the States have placed upon their statute books acts evading and defeating the provisions of the Constitution, and pronouncing such acts in violation of a solemn compact, appealing for their repail, pledging that the statute books of Pennsylvania shall be carefully searched and every statute, if there are any such invading the constitutional rights of sister State, to be at once repealed; recognizing the obligations of the Fugitive Slave Law; recompaning owners of rescued slaves; submit the achieves of the Supreme Contract. 1 lock, by LADD, WEBSTER & CO.'S SEWING MACHINES. The amalgamation of Linguistics.—There is a growing tendency in this ago to appropriate the most expressive words of other inneuties, and siter a while to incorporate them intragrown: thus the word Cephall , which is from the Greek, signifying "for the bead." Is now becoming popularized in connection with Mr. Spidding agrees Head ache remedy, but it willisoon be used in a more general way, and the word Cephalle will become as common as their tretty e and wastrothers whose distinction as foreign words has been worn eachy by common usake nutil they arem "native and to the manor born." Symptomatic Headache is exceed inly common and is the precursor of a great variety of diseases, among which are Apopleys. Gout, Rhemmatism, and all febric diseases. In fits norvous from it is sympathetic of disease of the siomach constituting sick headache, of the paid disease rentituting billious headache, of the paid disease rentituting billious headache, of the paid and uterine affections. Diseases of the heat are very frequent is attended with Headache is also very common, being usually distinguished by the name of necrons are also affections which frequently occasion Headache. Idiopathic Headache is also very common, being usually distinguished by the name of necrons Anadache, sometimes ronleg on suddenly in a state of apparently sound health and prostrating at once the mental and physical energies, and in other instances it comes on slowly, haralded by depression of spirits or accelling to temper. In must instances the pain is in the frent of the head overone or both eyes, and sometimes provoking vomiting; under this easier may also be ammed Neuralpia.

For the treatment of either class of Headacheth. The John Tompkins, that had been aground on the Falis, at the foot of the middle chute, had her career brought to a sudden close, awhile hefore day yesterday morning. Some miscreant from the shore, as we are told, came out in a skift to the boat, and returned undetected, leaving the people on the boat a prey to the fiames. They, however, were inclessingly to escape unscathed. The boat was set fire in the chambermaid's room, which was located in the afterpart of the cabin.

The only persons on the bost were Capil Berkshire, who was the owner, and one of his engineers. They were aroused by the crackling flumes of the lumming boat, and escaped in the yawl, managing, however to secure the iron safe from the office.—The boat was soon burnt to the water edge, and the blackened hull annk when it laid, with a lot of loreign salt in the hold. OFFICE LOUISVILLE COURIER, (
THURSDAY EVENING, Her. 13, 1860)
The demand for money to-day was not large, still the pressure of the market was more keenly felt, as none but those who cannot do without the money make any demand. The lanks are discounting but little, and then only for those who have special claims on them. Not more than one-fifth of the paper offered is taken. If there is any change at all to note, it is for the worse, for marters seem to be growing fighter and tigher every day, with no prospect of any relief to some time to come, unless the present political excitoment is quieted. There is no change to note in the market for uncerrent money. Eastern oxchangeds quoted nominally at 1 greent, premium by the banks, but they are drawing only sparingly for those who OFFICE LOUISVILLE COURIER et cont. premium by the banks, but they are drawing only sparingly for those who have special claims on them, as it is impossible for them to meet the demand when such little exchange is toaking, owing to the small amount of business which is being transacted in produce. The consequence is that a large number of persons are compelled to go to the brokers to getheir supplies, and then it is with difficult y that their wants are met. In the general market to-day there was a better feeling, owing to the favorable news received by the telegraph from New York and other places. The news from Europe was also favorable, both financially and commercially. Flour was firmer, with a bester demand, and though prhessare unchanged, the market closed firmer, withless disposition on the part of holders to sell, while buyers were more pientint. The demand is principally for home consumption, and no sales are made for shipping. There are some orders on the market, but they are passed by mnoticed, miless accompanied by the cash, as there is ageneral feeling of distrust pervading the business classes. At the close, flour was held at $4 for fine, $4.756($5 for superfine, and $50($5 50) for extra family grades.—There is morify no market for wheat, and quotations are nondinal. There is none offering, and even if there was, millers and dealers are not disposed to purchase.—Small lots of choive might be sold at 9c for red, and $1 for white. There is a good demand for corn, with rather a better feeling in the market, and during the past two days about 20,000 bandes new shelled have heen sold, for future delivery, on privaterns. We quote ear at $5c; shelled at 48-from store, with sales from wagons at 35 ($40c. The market tor oats is dull, with only a simall demand to feeding, and the sales are limited to a few small lots at 36 ($5c, saks included. In large lots there is no telling how low it could be purchased. There is no tange in trye or barley.

Whisky advanced, with agood demand, and the market closed from at 14½(0/14½c, with sales of nearly 300 bhis.

Groceries are dull, with but a smail demand for the various articles. Molasses is very dull and heavy, with holders pressing sales, but purchasers ure not to be found. Small sales are inade at 28c. Cot fee is quiet at 14½c 15c for prime fine. vate terms—supposed to be at 12c.

There is a small defined for Lard at 6% of 9% of far prime in tierces. There is nothing doing in Green Meats, but holders were not as auxions to sell as they may been before. At the close we think that they could not have been purchased at less than 5c, 7c, and 7% of 10 Shoulders, Sides, and Hams. There are nothing doing in Bulk Meats. There were no fings offering, but at the close they could by sold at 2.25, net for good heavy ones. Owing to the acareity of money packers were to a certain extens unwilling to tollow the advancat present. Confidence is weak, and the market may undergo a change at any moment. The foreign exchauge market opens with a very light demand, ondeed. Bankers are asking 102@104, and there is a little business doing at the lower figure. There are merchant bills in market at 106@101. The stagmant condition of the market arises und from the political condition of the constry, but from the heavy remittances we have nade to Europe this year, and our light purchases of foreign goods. The leading importers have already remitted for the next season, the weak houses cannot self-their paper, and will not remit unail. Union Meeting in Philadelphia.

Puni-at-Eliphia, Dec, 13.—The stage was gally decorated; also many of the private and all the public buildings were dressed in flags, with appropriate motices. One of the flags at the hotel had the motio—"Lon cession. Before Secession." The gathering was as large as any ever assembled in Independence Square, numbering about 10,500 persons. Mayor Henry said: "We meet to Intelligently consider the immediate dauger which threatens the perpetuity of the Union, without any partisan or personal motives. This danger has been hrought upon us very rapidly. The Republic is still in its inlaney, yet we now meet on the ground where the Declaration of Independence was proclaimed, with despair in our hearts. Only in the soveragnity of the people and by their prompt efforts can this I nion be perpetuated. We meet to declare unsitaken confidence in the Union and a determination to defend its integrity. If any sentiments have been proclutined by any portion of the country against those of another, they must be relinquished; we inust restore public sentiment to the old standard, and the misplaced appeals from our pulpits, lecture rooms, and presses against a section of our common country must be frowned down. It has been these violent appeals that have mainly brought about this sad sinte of stilars. We must preserve the Union at silars. We must preserve the Union at silars. The resolutions were amended to a call for a general Convention of all States instead of secoding States.

Joseph R. Ingersoli them addresad the meeting. He spoke strongly in favor of the proposed Convention, or Congress of delegates from all the States, to be held in the Hall of Intependence, the cautioned the beopic against violence miless we have a civil, devastating war. We have all to lose by disunion. It is important that the public sentiment be changed; that we no longer consider each other from the North or South. He referred to the speech of Mr. Stephens, of La, whose name was received with long cheers; this kind sentiments we nost hearthly a berocate and echo back to the people of the last and the South. We must repeat the mostile acts passed by eleven States, flitefring with Southeours in recovering differ property. [Applause]. We must show our good feeling by acting, and not hy words alone, and show the South we will do nothing to interfere with their rights, but everything to project them; that we are their brothers, friends and fellow-citizens. It is folly to suppose that this country can be divided. Jindge Woodward, of the Supreme Court, said: We must consider calmiy the position of the South, and ask whether they may may not be justified in ticer apprehensions. The platform of the party which has just snecceded in electing its candidate for President is unhoubtedly considered health to the Institutions of the South.

Charles E. Lex, City Solicitor, said he had no doubt that the action of this meeting would be highly indorsed by n majority of those who cast their voter for the President eleet. He spoke as a Northern man on Northern soil. In doing so they would not abandon a principle.—The vote of Pennsylvania was not infinenced by the slavery question.—The main issues which the recent contest decided in this State was the protective policy—any danger to the South would be repelled by hosts of young men lately conspicuous in the political clubs of the successful party. Let the Fugitive Slave Law be implicitly obeyed. We may prefer that its hould be slightly modified, but as it is the law of the lund, let us submit to the decisions of the Supreme Court. He only spoke the sentiments of the Governor cleel. [Faint cheers for Curtin.] He rend a telegraphic dispatch from the Governor of Maryland to Mayor Henry, denying the report that he intended to convene the Legislatine of that State. Mayor Henry read a dispatch from a meeting of Philadelphians, now holding at the Fifth Avenue Hotel of New York, approving the action of their nalive city.
